Contributions

Contributions give an overview of changes that you have made to MindTouch across all pages. You can also narrow down changes that other people have made across the system. To get started, click Tools -> Contributions as seen here:

This will then display contributions for the logged in user broken down on a daily basis in chronological order. It also shows the page that was edited, when it was edited, and a summary of the edit:

If you want to see recent changes of another user, you can type the user name in the View changes by user f then click View.	ield and
