2008: "MindTouch Deki Wiki" becomes "MindTouch Deki"

In an effort to further highlight the underlying architecture of the MindTouch Deki Wiki platform and its capabilities in mashing up data at a non-UI level, the "wiki" component of the product was dropped.

"MindTouch Deki Wiki" simply became known as "MindTouch Deki."

2007: Hardware appliance becomes "MindTouch Deki Wiki"

MindTouch originally created a hardware appliance: at various points of its existence it was called "MKS" (MindTouch Knowledge Server), "MOSS", and DekiBox. After the hardware idea was dropped, the software component was called "MindTouch Deki Wiki."
